

THE VANCOUVER SUN

New Telus Garden Office Features Large Public Art Projects

By Kevin Griffin, Vancouver Sun
SEPTEMBER 22, 2015

Marie Khouri's evocative hollow spheres are full of emptiness. She first creates a mould of hand-woven cedar branches and wax which is then cast in bronze. The spheres are on Floor 9's garden above the Seymour Street skybox.
